

INDEX.

- Abbott, T. K., review of his Catalogue of Fifteenth-Century Books in Trinity College, Dublin, 105 sq.
- Adams, Miss Agnes, her tribute to Dr. Garnett in 'The Bookman,' 247 sq.
- Advertisements of Elizabethan books, 348.
- Aeschylus, his description of Impresas in the 'Seven against Thebes,' 142.
- Almanacs, large sale of (1646-1648), 42; found profitable by Elizabethan publishers, 349.
- American demand for copies of the First Folio Shakespeare, 122, 138 sq.
- Amyot, Thomas, present whereabouts of his copy of the First Folio Shakespeare unknown, 127.
- Ascham, Roger, his meagre rewards, 305.
- Astrological signs, type for, 39.
- Authors, their relations with patrons and publishers under Elizabeth and James I, by Ph. Sheavyn, 301-365; occasionally their own publishers, 362.
- Avebury, Lord, on the municipal librarian's aims in book-buying, 57.
- Axon, W. E. A., on Christian Captive Indulgences in the British Museum, etc., 275-286.
- Bacon, Francis, asks James I for a theme, 329.
- Bacon-Shakespeare Question, collection illustrating it in the Lambeth Free Library, 183 sq.
- Bad books in libraries, 259.
- Bailey, Sir W., his Presidential Address at Library Association Conference, 437.
- Baker, Ernest, quoted as to fiction in libraries, 47 sq.
- Ballinger, John, on the municipal librarian's aims in book-buying, 63; on 'Shakespeare in Municipal Libraries,' 181-191; tribute to Dr. Garnett, 233-236.
- Barker, Christopher, his reputation as a publisher, 339.
- Barnes, Joseph, his preface to Lyly's 'Speeches at the Progress at Bissam,' 360.
- Barrett, F. T., tribute to Dr. Garnett, 241 sq.
- Barwick, G. F., on Impresas, 140-148.
- Bates, Henry, letter to Sir Thomas Browne, 11.
- Beaumont and Fletcher, review of the Cambridge edition of, 192-199.
- Beeching, Canon, his interpretation of Shakespeare's Sonnets, 202 sq.
- Berger, Elie, criticism of his 'Histoire de Blanche de Castile,' 219.
- Bible, payments made to final revisers of the Authorized Version, 347.
- Bible, New Testament, printers of the three quarto editions of 1536, 376 sqq.

- Bibles, stock of, kept by J. Partridge, 45.
- Bibliographical Society, Dr. Garnett's work for, 238, 255, sq.
- Bibliography, Dr. Aksel Josephson's scheme for an Institute of, 110 sq.
- Birkenhead, Shakespeare collection in the Municipal Library, 183.
- Birmingham, Shakespeare collection in the Municipal Library, 181.
- Bishop, George, his payments to Dr. Fulke, 339.
- Blount, Edward, his enterprise as a publisher, 340, sq.
- Bodleian Library, its copy of the First Folio Shakespeare in the hands of the Turbutt family, 130 sq.
- Bohn, H. G., described, 38 First Folio Shakespeares, 114.
- Bookbinding Leathers, paper on, at L. A. Conference, 440.
- Bookbuying for municipal libraries, discussion on the proper aims of, 44-69.
- Booker, John, charges for printing his 'Bloudy Irish Almanack,' 35, 39.
- Boothby, Guy, criticism of the purchase of his novels for municipal libraries, 48.
- Bouckhout, Adr. Kempe van, and the quarto New Testaments of 1536, by E. G. Duff, 376-383.
- Bourget, Paul, criticism on his 'Les Deux Sœurs,' 87.
- Boylesvé, René, criticism of his 'Le Bel Avenir,' 214.
- Braddon, Miss, criticism of the purchase of her novels for municipal libraries, 48, 58.
- Bradford, Conference of Library Association at, 437 sqq.
- Breton, Nicholas, his gratitude to Mary, Countess of Pembroke, 306 sq.; poems wrongly attributed to, in 'Breton's Bower of Delights,' 356; his apology for misprints, 359.
- British Museum, career of Dr. Garnett at, 225-256; post of 'placér' at, 227; post of Superintendent of the Reading Room at, 228; the printing of its 'Catalogue of Printed Books,' 229, 238; its atmosphere compared to that of Egypt, 254.
- Browne, Edgar, his copy of the 'Hydriotaphia,' 7.
- Browne, Dr. Edward, son of Sir Thomas Browne, 7, 10.
- Browne, Sir Thomas, article on, by Professor Osler, 1-31.
- Brudnell, Thomas, account (1651) for printing done by, 32-45.
- Burbage, Richard, payment to, for painting an Impresa for the Earl of Rutland, 140.
- Bussett, John and Richard, indulgences granted to those subscribing to their ransom, 277.
- Cambridge, Shakespeare Memorial collection in the Municipal Library at, 182 sq.
- Camden, William, his happy independence, 327.
- Caoursin, Gulielmus, article on his 'Obsidio Rhodiae,' 422-436.
- Carey, Elizabeth, mother and daughter, as literary patrons, 311 sq., 316, 318.
- Charles V, Emperor, his Impresa, 147.
- Christian Captives, examples of Indulgences granted to subscribers towards their ransoms, 275-286.
- Churchyard, Thomas, his shamelessness, 329, sq.

- Clayton, Professor, his influence on Sir Thomas Browne, 2 sq.
- Cock, Simon, prints 1536 New Testament, 378-386.
- Contile, Luca, on Impresas, 144 sq.
- County Councils as library authorities, 445.
- Creed, Thomas, Shakespeare Quartos printed by, 155; class of books published by, 345.
- Crom, Matthew, 379-381.
- Crunden, F. M., his method of leading readers from bad books to good, quoted, 56; on the public library as a factor in industrial progress, 384-396.
- Daniel, Samuel, fortunate in his patrons, 305, 314; his gratitude to Mary, Countess of Pembroke, 307; tutor to Lady Anne Clifford, 311; his appeal for patronage, 321; involves the Earl of Devonshire in trouble by his 'Philotas,' 324; on the competition among suitors, 327 sq.; Jonson's jealousy of him, 328; his independence, 333; patent granted to, for his 'History of England,' 353; possible guarantee for his books, 362; Simon Waterson his usual publisher, 363.
- Danter, John, Shakespeare Quartos printed by, 152 sq.; class of books published by, 342; his payments to authors, 347; Nash boarded by, 364.
- Day, John, his reputation as a publisher, 339.
- Daykin, J., his paper on Village Libraries, at Library Association Conference, 439.
- Dedications, 318 sqq.
- Dekker, Thomas, on the tricks played on patrons, 330, 333; his difficulty in finding publishers, 350.
- Derby Winners, Dr. Garnett's memory for their names, 229, 243, 251.
- Devonshire, Earl of, involved in trouble by dedication of Daniel's 'Philotas,' 324.
- Dibdin, T. F., knew only 26 First Folio Shakespeares, 113.
- Dictating to Compositors, misprints produced by, 361.
- Digby, Lord, Jonson's expectation from his patronage, 321.
- Digby, Sir Kenelm, his 'Observations' on the Religio Medici, 15 sq.
- Dilke, Lady, gift of her books to the National Art-Library, 263-274.
- Dixon, Professor W. McN., on the municipal librarian's aims in book-buying, 59.
- Dobson, Austin, verses on Dr. Garnett, 225.
- Donne, John, lodged by Sir Robert Drury, 313, 317.
- Doubleday, W. E., quoted on fiction in libraries, 47, 49; on the Library Conference Meeting at Bradford, 437.
- Doumic, René, criticism on his 'Etudes sur la littérature française,' 92.
- Dowden, Edward, tribute to Dr. Garnett, 242 sq.
- Drayton, Michael, relations with Countess of Bedford, 310; annuity from Prince Henry, 311; his difficulties with publishers, 358.
- Drury, Sir Robert, his patronage of Donne, 313, 317.
- Duff, E. G., on Adr. Kempe van Bouckout and the 4th New Testaments of 1536, 376 sqq.

- Dutton, Sir Thomas, step-father of Sir Thomas Browne, 2.
- Edwaies, Sir Gervase, his forfeited estate restored to his widow by third Earl of Pembroke, 308.
- Edwards, J. Passmore, on the municipal librarian's aims in book-buying, 60.
- Eld, George, Shakespeare quartos printed by, 162.
- Engel, Georg, criticism on his 'Hann Kluth, der Philosoph,' 78 sqq.
- Enking, Ottomar, criticism of his 'Patriarch Mahnke,' 83.
- Esdaile, Arundell, on Shakespeare Literature (1901-1905), 167-180; on Public Schools and their libraries, 366 sqq.
- Essex, Robert Devereux, Earl of, as a literary patron, 310; troubled by dedications, 323.
- Euripides, his descriptions of Impresas in the Phocnissac, 143.
- Evelyn, John, his visit to Sir Thomas Browne, 9.
- Faber, R. S., on the influence of librarians on the choice of books by readers, 67 sq.
- Fawne, Luke, executor to the will of T. Brudnell, 33 sq., 43.
- Ferro, Giovanni, on Impresas, 143 sqq.
- Fiction, purchases of for municipal libraries, discussed under 'The Municipal Librarian's Aims in Book-buying,' 46-69; cost of, 49 note.
- Field, Richard, his editions of Shakespeare's poems, 149 sqq.
- Fleming, W. H., First Folio Shakespeare's described by, 114 note.
- Florio, John, befriended by third Earl of Pembroke, 307.
- Folger, H. C., number of copies of the First Folio Shakespeare in his possession, 121, 133, 134, 136, 139.
- Fortescue, G. K., memoir of Dr. Garnett, 225-233.
- Fovargue, H. W., paper at L. A. Conference on County Councils as library authorities, 441.
- Frapié, Léon, criticism of his 'L'Ecolière,' 289.
- Fraunce, Abraham, his poems for Mary, Countess of Pembroke, 307.
- French Literature, articles by Elizabeth Lee on Recent French and German books. See Lee.
- Frenssen, Gustav, criticism on his 'Hilligenlei,' 78 sqq.
- Garnett, Richard, on 'The Municipal Librarian's Aims in Book-buying,' 64 sqq.; verses on, by Austin Dobson, 225; memoir and tributes to, by G. K. Fortescue, J. Ballinger, H. R. Tedder, F. T. Barrett, E. Dowden, A. Symons and A. W. Pollard, 225-256.
- Gaultier, Jules de, criticism of his 'Les Raisons de l'Idéalisme,' 293 sq.
- German Literature, articles by Elizabeth Lee on recent French and German books. See Lee.
- German Magazines, improvement of, 86.
- Giovio, Paolo, his definition of an Impresa, 141.
- Gissing, George, his love of classical literature, 227.
- Glover, Arnold, review of his edition of 'Beaumont and Fletcher,' 192-199.
- Gosson, Stephen, his dedication to Sidney, 331.

- Gott, Dr. John, Bishop of Truro, his 'Shakespeariana,' 129.
- Greene, Robert, his sixteen patrons, 318.
- Greg, W. W., reviews of Cambridge 'Beaumont and Fletcher,' and the facsimiles of Shakespeare's 'Poems' and 'Pericles' by, 192-208.
- Haebler, Konrad, on a General Catalogue of Incunabula, 111.
- Hall, H. T., presents Shakespeare Memorial collection to the Cambridge Free Library, 183.
- Handel-Mazzetti, E. von, criticism of his 'Jesse und Maria,' 290 sq.
- Hartley, L. L., his copy of the First Folio Shakespeare used to complete Mr. Morgan's, 117.
- Harvey, Gabriel, his relations with his publishers, 350 sq.
- Harvey, William, Sir Thomas Browne on his discovery of the circulation of the blood, 29.
- Hauptmann, Gerhart, criticism of his 'Und Pippa tanzt,' 210 sq.
- Hautpoul, Alphonse d', Marquis, notice of his 'Mémoires,' 220.
- Heilborn, Ernst; criticism of his 'Ring und Stab,' 213.
- Henslowe, P., his additional payment to playwrights, 351 note.
- Hesse, Hermann, criticism on his 'Unterm Rad,' 83.
- Heyking, Baroness von, criticism of her 'Der Tag Anderer,' 212.
- Heywood, Thomas, his boasts of independence, 331; on sale of plays to actors and publishers, 356.
- Hill, Alexander, on the responsibility of librarians for the public taste, 257, 262.
- Hodgkin, Professor, on 'the Municipal Librarian's Aims in Book-buying,' 57.
- Hueffer, F. M., his tribute to Dr. Garnett in the 'Bookman,' 247, 251.
- Hunt, librarian at Bootle, 261.
- Impresas, article on, by G. F. Barwick, 140-148.
- Imprints, absence of, may denote that a book was divided between two printers, 42.
- Incunabula, at Trinity College, Dublin, T. K. Abbott's Catalogue of, 105; plan for a General Catalogue of, 111 sq.
- Indulgences, examples of those granted to subscribers for the ransom of Christian captives, 275-286.
- Industrial progress, public libraries as a factor of, by F. M. Crunden, 384-396.
- Ingleby, Holcombe, First Folio Shakespeares described by, 114.
- Inks used in printing, article on, by C. T. Jacobi, 70-77.
- Jacobi, C. T., criticism of prices in a seventeenth century printer's bill, 43; on Printing Inks, 70-77.
- Jaggard, William, his reputation as a publisher, 343.
- James I, his dedication of his Answer to Vorstius, 330.
- Jenkinson, F., on the municipal librarian's aims in bookbuying, 59.
- Jevons, Stanley, on public libraries, quoted, 389.
- Johnson, Mr., founder of Trinity College School, Toronto, 1.
- Johnson, Dr. Samuel, Dr. Garnett compared to, 248.
- Jonson, Ben, his financial straits,

- 305; befriended by third Earl of Pembroke, 308; his annuity from the Crown, 311; lodged with Lord d'Aubigny, 313; re-received £100 from Charles II, ib.; his expectations from Lord Digby's patronage, 321; his boldness in asking, 325; his jealousy of Daniel, 328.
- Josephson, Aksel, his scheme for an Institute of Bibliography, 110 sq.
- Kay, John, his translation of Caoursin's 'Obsidio Rhodiae,' 424.
- Kellermann, Bernhard, criticism of his 'Ingeborg,' 418 sq.
- Key, Ellen, criticism of her 'Das Glück als Pflicht,' 294 sq.
- Leahy, A. H., review of his 'Heroic Romances of Ireland,' 108 sq.
- Lee, Elizabeth, articles on Recent Foreign Literature, 78-96; 209-224; 287-300; 411-421.
- Lee, Sidney, on the municipal librarian's aims in bookbuying, 58; Notes and Additions by, to the Census of copies of the Shakespeare First Folio, 113; his announcement of the payment made to Shakespeare and Burbage, for an Impresa, 140 sq.
- Leicester, Robert Dudley, Earl of, as a patron of letters, 308.
- Leighton, J. and J., notice of their illustrated catalogue, 106 sq.
- Leiter, Mrs., imperfection wrongly attributed to her copy of the First Folio Shakespeare, 115.
- Lemaître, Jules, criticism on his 'Bertrade,' 89 sqq.
- Lespinasse, Julie de, criticism of the Marquis de Ségur's biography of, 215.
- Leiden, expenses in 1633 of a degree at, 4.
- Libraries, suggestions for making more alive, 261.
- Libraries, in public schools, article by Arundell Esdaile, 366.
- Libraries, municipal, discussion on their aims in bookbuying, 46-69; as a factor in industrial progress, by F. M. Crunden, 384-396; Shakespeare collections in, 181-191.
- Libraries, paper on Village Libraries, at L.A. Conference, 439.
- 'Library, The,' Dr. Garnett's services to, 246 sq.
- Library Association, Dr. Garnett's presidency of it at its Aberdeen meetings, 235, 242; Dr. Garnett's work for, 236 sq.; Conference at Bradford, article on, 437 sqq.
- Lilly, William, astrologer, charges for printing seven books by, 35 sqq.; stock of the books, 44 sq.
- Liverpool, Shakespeare collection in the Municipal Library, 183.
- Lodge, Thomas, on the necessity of literary patronage, 304, 322.
- London, Elizabethan authors obliged to live in, 338, cp. 359; need of a central free library for, 443.
- Loti, Pierre, criticism of his 'Les Désenchantées,' 413 sqq.
- Lucas, E. V., review of his life of Charles Lamb, 97 sqq.
- Lyly, John, his complaints of lack of help, 319.
- MacGeorge, B. B., sale of his copies of the four Shakespeare Folios to M. J. Perry, 118.
- Mahan, Captain, review of his 'Sea Power in its relations to the War of 1812,' 102.

- Manchester, Shakespeare collection in the Municipal Library at, 182, 186.
- Massinger, Philip, his dedication to Charles, Lord Herbert, 318; his dependence on patrons, 329.
- McKillop, J., on a Central Free Library for London, 444.
- Michaelmas term, the chief publishing season under Elizabeth, 348.
- Mileham, Dorothy, wife of Sir Thomas Browne, 6 sq.
- Miller, A. W. K., his editorship of the printed 'Catalogue of Printed Books in the British Museum,' 230.
- Misprints, caused by dictating to compositors, 361; in First Folio Shakespeare, 128; in dramatic texts, editorial methods of dealing with, 194.
- Morgan, J. Pierpont, his copy of the First Folio Shakespeare in a substituted binding, 117.
- Moxon, Joseph, on printing inks, quoted, 72-76.
- Nash, Thomas, his entreaties for patronage, 304, 313; his lament for Sir Philip Sidney, 306; his praise of Mary, Countess of Pembroke, 307; housed by the Careys, 312, 318; his shamelessness, 316, 332; his anger with patrons, 327, 335; references to Elizabethan publishing customs in his writings, 343, 347-351, 353 sq., 356, 359, 362 sq.
- National Art Library, gift of Lady Dilke's books to, 263-274.
- Norfolk, Duke of, peculiarities in his copy of the First Folio Shakespeare, 127 sq.
- Norwich, Sir Thomas Browne's residence at, 6.
- Ocland, Christopher, his experience of patronage, 319.
- Okes, Nicholas, probably printed one quarto of King Lear, 165.
- Osler, William, article on Sir Thomas Browne's 'Religio Medici,' 1-31.
- Pamphlets, prices of Elizabethan, 348.
- Paris, history of, published at the expense of the municipality, 218 sq.
- Parker, Dr. Gordon, on Leathers for Libraries, 440.
- Partridge, John, bookseller, account for printing done for, 32-45; inventory of his goods, 44 sq.
- Patents for exclusive printing classes of books. See Privileges.
- Pater, Walter, on Sir Thomas Browne and Francis Bacon, quoted, 21.
- Patmore, Coventry, his position at the British Museum, 253.
- Patrons and professional writers, under Elizabeth and James I, by Ph. Sheavyn, 301-336.
- Payments made to Elizabethan authors, 339, 347.
- Peacock, Thomas Love, article on, by C. Williams, 397-410.
- Pembroke, Mary, Countess of, as a patron of letters, 306.
- Pembroke, William, third Earl of, as a patron of letters, 307.
- Pericles, Prince of Tyre, descriptions of Impresas in the play and novel of, 146 sq.
- Perry, Marsden J., his purchase of the MacGeorge copies of the four Shakespeare Folios, 118.
- Physicians as men of letters, 26.

- Piracy of Elizabethan books, 356.
 Plays, attitude of Elizabethan actors towards their publication, 349.
 Plomer, H. R., on 'A printer's bill in the seventeenth century,' 32-45; on 'The Printers of Shakespeare's Plays and Poems,' 149-166.
 Pollard, A. W., tribute to Dr. Garnett, 246-256; on Caoursin's account of the Siege of Rhodes, 423-436.
 Ponsonby, William, his reputation as a publisher, 341; published most of Spenser's books, 363.
 Popes of Rome, Dr. Garnett's memory for their names, 229.
 Printer of the Siege of Rhodes, 423 sq.
 Printing, article on inks used for, by C. T. Jacobi, 70-77; cost of, in 1644-48, illustrated by a bill, 32-45; custom of dividing a book among two or more firms, 42.
 Privileges granted by Elizabeth for printing classes of books, 338; their effect on the publishing trade, 344 sqq.; privileges for single books, 352 sq.
 Publishers, article by Ph. Sheevyn on their relations with authors, under Elizabeth and James I, 337-365.
 Pyllet, Sir John, indulgence granted to those subscribing to his ransom, 286.
 Quaker and the burgler, 258.
 Reading, librarians' responsibility for public taste in, 237-262.
 Redgrave, G. R., on the Lady Dilke gift to the National Art Library, 263-274.
 Reger, Johann, his edition of Caoursin's 'Obsidio Rhodiae,' 423 sqq.
 Religio Medici, article on Sir Thomas Browne's, by Prof. Osler, 1-31.
 Remainder Market, appearance of Dr. Garnett's 'Twilight of the Gods' in, 249.
 Rhodes, siege of, by the Turks in 1480, article on, 423-436.
 Roberts, H. D., Hon. Fellowship of Library Association conferred on, 446.
 Roberts, James, Shakespeare quartos printed by, 160 sq., 163.
 Rodd, Thomas, his list of 80 First Folio Shakespeares, 114.
 Rolland, Romain, criticism of his 'Jean Christophe,' 416 sq.
 Ross, Alexander, his 'Medicus Medicatus,' 18.
 Rousseau Society, notice of its publications, 217 sq.
 Roy, E. A., Panizzi's praise of, 254.
 Rutland, Earl of, Impresa designed by Shakespeare for, 140.
 Rutland, Elizabeth, Countess of, as a patron of letters, 308.
 St. Louis, comparative cost of libraries and schools at, 389; example of circulation of technical books at its library, 390 sqq.
 Sarasin, P. and F., criticism on their 'Reisen in Celebes,' 85.
 Sargy, John, indulgences granted to those subscribing to his ransom, 282 sqq.
 Schools, article by Arundell Eadale on Public Schools and their Libraries, 366.
 Ségur, Marquis de, criticism of his biography of Julie de Lespinasse, 215.

- Shakespeare, Wm., record prices fetched by the four Folio editions, 119; notes and additions to the Census of copies of the First Folio, 113-139; Impresa designed by Shakespeare for the Earl of Rutland, 140; the Printers of Shakespeare's Plays and Poems, 149-166; Shakespeare literature, 1901-1905, an annotated list of books, 167-180; Shakespeare in municipal libraries, 181-191; review of Sidney Lee's edition of Shakespeare's Poems and Pericles, 199-208; V. V. Stasov's criticisms on 'The Merchant of Venice,' 209; popularity of his plays on the German stage, ib.; his relations with patrons, 307, 313, 328 sq.; plays wrongly attributed to, 357.
- Shakespeare Reading Societies, in connection with municipal libraries, 185 sqq.
- Sheavyn, Ph., on Patrons and Professional Writers under Elizabeth and James I, 301-336; on Writers and the Publishing Trade, 337-365.
- Short, Peter, Shakespeare quartos printed by, 157 sq.
- Sidney, Sir Philip, as a patron of letters, 306, 326 note, 331, 334.
- Sidney, Robert, second Earl of Leicester, a binding of a book of his transferred to the Morgan copy of the First Folio of Shakespeare, 117.
- Sims, Valentine, Shakespeare quartos printed by, 153 sqq., 163.
- Slater, H., review of his 'Book-Prices Current,' 103 sqq.
- Snowden, G. and L., Wechel's device used by, 164 sq.
- Southampton, Henry Wriothesley, Earl of, as a literary patron, 310, 313.
- Spelling, in the sixteenth century, 206 sq.
- Spenser, Edmund, dedicates a sonnet to Mary, Countess of Pembroke, 306; his relations with the Earl of Leicester, 308 sq., 313; his funeral paid for by the Earl of Essex, 310; official places found for, 312; his dedication of 'Colin Clout' to Raleigh, 322; his impatience of suing at Court, 326.
- Sprigge, Joshua, charges for printing his 'Anglia Rediviva, England's Recovery,' 35, 37 sq.; stock of, 44 sq.
- Squirrel blocks, used by Brudnell, 40 sq.
- Squirrels' nests, 234.
- Stafford, Simon, Shakespeare's quartos printed by, 159.
- Stasov, V. V., his criticisms on Shakespeare, 209.
- Stationers' Company, its powers as regards copyright under Elizabeth and James I, 352 sq., 357.
- Stephens, Philemon, executor to the will of T. Brudnell, 33 sq., 43.
- Stewart, A. B., peculiarities in his copy of the First Folio Shakespeare, 133.
- Subscription, Elizabethan books published by, 362.
- Sudermann, H., criticism of his 'Stein unter Steinen,' 84.
- Symons, Arthur, tribute to Dr. Garnett, 244-246.
- Taine, H., quoted on Sir Thomas Browne, 25.
- Tasso, T., his 'Dialogue on Impresas,' 142.

- Taste in reading, responsibility of librarians for, 237-262.
- Taylor, John, the Water Poet, his books often published by subscription, 362.
- Tedder, H. R., tribute to Dr. Garnett, 236-240.
- Texts, gross imperfections of, in some Elizabethan books, 360 sq.
- Thorpe, Thomas, plays published by, 342.
- Thucydides, public grant made to, 301.
- Tinayre, Marcelle, criticism of her 'La Rebelle,' 287.
- Title-pages, lack of information on, 87.
- Trinity College, Dublin, T. K. Abbott's 'Catalogue of Incunabula at,' 105.
- Trotter, Sir Coutts, his copy of the First Folio Shakespeare, 123 sq.
- Turberville, George, acted as his own publisher, 362.
- Turbutt family, ownership of Bodleian copy of the First Folio Shakespeare, 130 sq.
- Turner, W., author of the 'Herbal,' complaint of piracy, 357.
- University, promising youths helped to go there, 312.
- Village Libraries, paper on, at L. A. Conference, 439.
- Waller, A. R., review of his work on the Cambridge Beaumont and Fletcher, 192-199.
- Walsingham, discovery of urns at, suggested Browne's 'Hydriothaphia,' 22.
- Wantage, Lady, history of her copy of the First Folio Shakespeare, 122.
- Ward, Roger, agent of John Wolfe in pirating privileged books, 345.
- Waterson, Simon, published most of Daniel's books, 363.
- Webb, Sidney, on the municipal librarian's aims in bookbuying, 60 sqq.
- Wechel, Andreas, his device used by English printers, 164.
- White, Robert, partner of T. Brudnell, 33, 38.
- White, William, Shakespeare quartos printed by, 159, 166.
- Whitefoot, Rev. John, his description of Sir Thomas Browne, 12.
- Wilkins, George, his descriptions of Impresas in 'Pericles,' 146 sq.
- Williams, C., article on T. L. Peacock, 397-410.
- Winsor, Justin, First Folio Shakespeares described by, 114 note.
- Wither, George, his refusal to flatter, 331; on Elizabethan publishers, 345, 348, 352, 358, 365.
- Wolfe, John, his commercial keenness as a publisher, 340; his campaign against privileged books, 354; willing to publish both for Harvey and Nash, 363 sq.
- Wood, Mrs. Henry, criticism of the purchase of her novels for municipal libraries, 47 sq., 58.
- Worboise, Helen, criticism of the purchase of her novels for municipal libraries, 47 sq.
- Yong, Barnaby, unable to supervise proofs of his translation of 'Diana,' 359.

